PROGRESSIVES' TICKET

Wallace Batchelder Out of the State Organization

He Favored the Endorsement of the Democratic Ticket-Rev. Frazer Metzger the Nominee for Governor.

The Vermont Progressive party, represented by about 70 delegates, met at the Hotel Vermont in Burlington Tuesday, perfected an organization, elected delegates to the national convention in Chicago, selected four presidential elec-tors and nominated a state ticket.

The feature of the convention was the breaking away from the organization of Wallace Batchelder of Bethel, head and front of the Progressive party in Ver-mont, rough rider and personal friend of Col. Roosevelt.

The split came over Mr. Batchelder's refusal to favor the placing of a state ticket in the field. Mr. Batchelder said he believed the Progressive principles in the state could be served better by in-dorsing the candidacy of Harland B. Howe, the Democratic nominee for gov-ernor, than by placing a third ticket in Roosevelt sanctioned such a move, and if he did he was through with him. A motion was made by Wallace I. Coburn of North Bennington to lay on the table the article in the call for the election of a state ticket. The motion was lost by 46 to 11.

In withdrawing from the convention Mr. Batchelder let it be known that he would have nothing to do with any policy of advancing Roosevelt's interests by playing into the hands of the Republican candidate. He arrived in town Saturday and represented himself as a member of two fraternal organizations from the members of which he tried to obtain money, which he said he was in need of to obtain tools so that could go to work as a carpenter for the Bates-Rogers construction company. In the afternoon he again went to the same man from whom he had obtained same man from whom he had obtained $5 in the forenoon and tried to obtain more. Unless frequently cleaned, the surface of sliver will become black in the course of a few months. The best way to keep sliver bright without the necessity of cleaning is said to be to coat the surface with a thin solution of collection varnish disa thin solution of collodion varnish di-luted with spirits of wine. After being applied with a soft brush the spirit evaporates, leaving a thin, glossy, transpa-rent film on the polished surface. Warm water removes the varnish. TAFT IN NOVEMBER.

Many a Democrat has been elected in July, only to be buried under an avalanche of votes in November. Mr. Taft's prospects are now at their lowest ebb. First driven by treachery and shameful abuse to the extreme of undignified personal defence, then fought with unexampled bitterness in his contest for a deserved renomination, and now confronting not only an open detachment from his own ranks, but also a most resourceful and daring Democratic opponent, his record of accomplishments pon which he must ultimately rely is for the moment eclipsed. But the fact that few Presidents have rendered more valuable service under trying conditions remains. Mr. Taft's fidelity, his conscientious endeavors, his singleness of unselfish purpose, his purity of intent, his noble achievements, are forgotten only for the time.
